A STUDY IN CONTRASTS

The cover photos by Win Jenney show the high and low of the river in dramatic detail.

His 1968 photo was taken during the March 19th flood that made a swollen torrent of the Mattapoisett River. At that time, part of the stream was flowing over the highway, the entire arch opening of Arch Bridge was under water as was the road which parallels the river. The photo shows water flowing over the dam at the road. The photo below, taken this Fall, shows the scene looking northeast from the back of the dam. Details of the river bottom are visible that have been underwater for years. Notice the stone formation in the right of the photo, leading to the opposite shore. It appears to be an old wall or ford leading from one bank to the other. The Fairhaven pumping station is at right top.

The long summer drought has taken a heavy toll of the water which is just a comparative trickle.

May we suggest that a positive step in solving the continuing problem of rowdyism in the vicinity of the Library would be to install street lighting on all the power poles on Barstow Street, from Water Street to Church Street. Proper illumination has been proven, time and again, to be an economical and effective means of reducing problems of this nature.

May we also point out, that, there have been four separate instances of theft on our premises in the past three years, and one incident of a vagrant trespassing.

In addition to the lighting, we wish to request increased police patrols on a regular basis, with the officers taking positive action on their own initiative and not reacting only on complaint of the residents of the area.

Many an ugly situation could be averted if early corrective action were taken. Complaints by the residents usually come only after a potential situation is well developed.

May we also suggest that police officers involved in this duty be discreet in not mentioning to the offenders that a complaint has been registered, since this only served to whet their appetities for vengeance. Several instances of abusive language and petty property damage have resulted as an aftermath of these concerned residents exercising their right and duty of registering a complaint.

Your attention to this matter will be appreciated.

BAD INTERSECTION DISCUSSED

The intersection of Route 6 and Church Street in Mattapoisett was the subject of discussion as residents of the area Mr. Leonard Burnham and Edmund Valladoa met with Mattapoisett Selectmen. It was asked that a stop sign by replaced on the Church Street corner which has been done. Selectmen have also written to State highway authorities to ask for a reduction in the speed limit along the highway. A two car collision on Sunday, October 31st, at this point, was latest accident of several which have occured at or near this intersection, and these prompted the request by residents of the neighborhood.

Fund Workers Organize

PLANS FOR TOBEY HOSPITAL DRIVE

An enthusiastic group of organizers and workers for the Tobey Hospital Building Fund met Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David McCormack. Plans were expanded for the Mattapoisett drive, of which Mrs. McCormack is chairman.

The addition to be named the Susanna K. Tobey Wing will be completed this summer and is expected to be in operation by September. Provided by the new construction will be 42 more beds, additional operating facilities, physical therapy department, increased cafeteria and kitchen area, as well as new power plant and other maintenance facilities.

Fund-raising of this proportion is an awesome task. With the help of all who realize how important is the hospital's role in our community, Tobey Hospital's growth will soon match that of the towns who depend on its services.

HOW TO FIGHT FIRES AT WORK

The grim statistics are in!

In 1970, according to the National Safety Council, some 6,700 Americans fell victim to fire fatalities.

And, because a significant number of these people lost their lives on the job, here are some suggestions on how to prevent fires and their casualties — at the place where you work:

1. Obey "No Smoking" and other safety regulations. They are established for your own protection; generally in areas where flammable conditions exist. So, be sure to comply.

2. Wear clothes made of Nomex fabric. Such clothes — which are highly resistant to flame, heat and dangerous chemicals — save lives. Some companies provide them to all workers exposed to fire, heat and chemicals.

3. Flammable waste, such as scrap, wiping rags and rubbish should be disposed of quickly and efficiently in metal containers. If none have been provided — ask for them.

4. Certain paint removers, thinners and cleaners emit highly combustible vapors. If they have to be used, make certain they are applied well away from sources of flame and sparks.

5. Using the right equipment for the right job can save lives, too. Inadequate extension cords, fuses and make-shift wiring are all invitations to fire.

6. Quickly clean up oil spills and grease from floors and work benches.

7. If stock piles are stacked too high, sprinklers cannot do their job effectively. Accordingly, keep stock piled low.

Cranberry Bowl Events

The annual Cranberry Bowl Football game and Miss Cranberry Bowl Pageant will take place this year at the Wareham athletic field and Wareham Town Hall respectively on Saturday, November 13th, between Wareham High School and Old Rochester Regional High School. This event is sponsored annually by the Regional Scholarship Club which has planned other activities to improve the day.

The Club has been working with the principals and coaches of the schools along with the students in order to present an interesting half-time exhibition. This year a float from each school along with the three Junior girl candidates and Miss Cranberry Bowl, Nancy Gibson, will be presented on the football field during half-time activities. Also the high school bands of each school are planning a joint performance while a cross-country race will also be taking place

During the evening 50-year jewels and 25-year certificates will be presented by a State officer. The lecturer, Mrs. Mildred LeBaron, is co-chairman, with all members on the committee.

The lecturer's march was won by Manuel Roderick of Fairhaven Grange.

Interesting papers on two of the "musts" to conduct a Grange meeting were read by Ollie Gifford on the plow, one of the implements, and Earle Wilson's paper was on the Bible. Both were very interesting and informative, in the relationship to a Grange meeting.

Games were enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Announcements were as follows: members are asked to bring in articles for a Penny Sale for the November 18th meeting; two whist parties will be held at the home of Mrs. LeBaron on Water Street on the afternoons of the 15th and 29th at 1 P.M., proceeds to benefit the anniversary fund; at the November 18th meeting the officers of Sippican Pomona will fill the chairs and conduct the meeting and the lecturer's program.

The social hour was in charge of Dale Fearing.

SCHOOLS TO PARTICIPATE IN TELFAD

Eighteen seniors from New Bedford area high schools will take the reins at the New England Telephone in New Bedford on December 8 and 9 as part of the company's Telephone Executive Leader for a Day (Telfad) program.

Telfad is a program which exposes students to a large corporation and gives them some insight into multi-management supervision and decision making.

The program was originated by the telephone company on Cape Cod eight years ago.

Local telephone manager Francis J. Brown said since that time the program has spread to many communities in the New England area and is being introduced by the Bell System throughout the country.

Brown said, "This will be New Bedford's fourth annual program".

Brown said the basic purpose of the program is to familiarize students with the daily operation of a large company and to emphasize the importance of good communications and cooperation between departments to get a job done properly.

Brown said, "Much of the current condemnation and distrust of the business world by some segments of the young adult population is due to lack of information. Through the Telfad program, we are hoping to narrow the communications gap between the questioning student and the too often unresponsive establishment."

The Telfad agenda will begin with the students being picked up in the morning at their homes by the person whose managerial position they will fill. At this time, students will get a first-hand report of the particular department they will head.

After a day and a half of on-the-job experience, students will have an opportunity to discuss what they've done with the other students and telephone personnel.

The program will end with a luncheon where Brown will present the students with certi-

Bulldogs Top P'town

The Old Rochester Bulldogs meshed into high gear to pull far away from the Provincetown Fishermen in Saturday's contest. Richie Silvia had a great day as he ran for three TDs.

Joe Bettencourt started the scoring as he racked up 6 points on a keeper to cap an 8-play drive in the first period. Richie Silvia plunged for the 2-point conversion. Paul Soares scored next with a plunge from 6 yards out on O.R.'s next series in the first period. Paul Reilly was stopped as he tried for the 2 points and the score stood 14 to 0.

In the second period, Richie Silvia scored on a 16-yard run, a 6-yard run and a 15-yard run on three different drives. J. J. Sullivan kicked the extra points for each TD conversion adding 21 points to make the score 35 to 0 at halftime.

The third period was a stand-off as Provincetown found itself stymied by a strong O.R. defense. The Bulldog reserves were unable to put together a scoring drive. In the fourth period, the Fishermen came alive. Mark Silva, quarterback, passed to Dave Motta for Provincetown's first TD. It was Silva to Motta again for the 2-point conversion. The next Provincetown opportunity was a thrilling bomb. Quarterback Bob Brook lateralled to Silva who passed 65 yards downfield to Motta who scored. The extra point try was missed and the score stood 35 to 14.

An interception set up the next score for O.R. Freshman Warren Mott plunged over from the one to score. The point try was missed.

With less than a minute left, Silva found Mike Menagas with a beautiful 25-yard scoring pass. It was Silva to Menagas for the 2-point conversion pass to put the final score at 41 to 22.

The Bulldogs hosted the Fishermen at a spaghetti supper at the school following the game before the visitors started the long ride back to P-Town.

Old Rochester will travel to Wareham this Saturday for the traditional Cranberry Bowl, a rivalry that generates intense interest both on and off the field. Game time is at 1:30.

REP. KEITH SEES PROSPECT OF "MODIFIED" FOREIGN AID

Rep. Hastings Keith (R-Mass.) said last week "it appears probable that, if foreign aid continued, it will be in a modified form, and at a more modest cost to our over-burdened American taxpayers and pinpointed to help us."

The Bay State Republican saw, as "the most significant thing" about the 41-27 Senate vote to kill foreign aid, "the fact that it crossed party and ideological lines. Different Senators," he said, "opposed it for different reasons.

"It was noteworthy, for example, that 'anti-war' Democrats joined traditional critics of foreign aid spending in killing the measure. This was especially noteworthy in view of the fact that the measure, for the amount of $2.9 billion, had been reduced to that figure, earlier that day, from the $3.6 billion asked by the Administration."

Congressman Keith went on to observe that "this dramatic, landmark action reflected a general consensus that, after a quarter-century and billions of dollars, foreign aid was due, at last, for a much needed major reassessment.

"It is equally clear," he continued, "that the main stumbling block to resolution of the foreign aid impasse between the Congress and the Administration is the level of military aid to such countries as Cambodia and Greece. As some people see it, that aid level is so high as to contain the seeds of another Vietnam-like American entanglement.

"The Administration, on the other hand, take the position that failure to continue some aspects of the foreign aid program could endanger security arrangements with Asian nations, undermine the Nixon Doctrine, and slow down U. S. troop withdrawal from South Vietnam and elsewhere.

"There is no doubt," Mr. Keith concluded, "that, if foreign aid has a future it will be found somewhere between these positions."

GLITTERING ANTICIPATION

We are not to be alarmed at anyone we see peering up into the branches of pine trees, pouring over old Farmers' Almanacs, scurrying into stores for bobbins of thread, polishing musical instruments or attaching red and white tickets to coat lapels and hatbands.

These people are all doing their "thing" for the Tri-County Music Association's December 3rd Sno-Ball, according to chairman Chuck Ganzel. Pine cones, new moons, beautiful dresses and Joe Ponte's orchestra are all essential ingredients for this glittering holiday gala at the New Bedford Country Club.

A limited number of tickets are available from Verna Nahigyan, Buff Locke, Chuck and John Atkinson in Mattapoisett; Maryette Carl and Dick Fairweather in Marion; Virginia Cummins in Rochester; and Hartley Fell and Phil Danforth in New Bedford.

Night of Laughs

HE'S COMING

"He's coming-"
"Who?"
"The man."
"What man?"
"The Man Who Came to Dinner!"
"Oh.....When?"

On Saturday, November 20th, there'll be a very special dinner guest on the Old Rochester Regional stage. His name is Sheridan Whiteside, critic, lecturer, wit, radio orator, intimate friend of the great and near great. Unfortunately, he is prone to running peoples' lives. Richard Helfand portrays this portly gent who comes to dinner at the Stanley's and ends up staying for a month because of a broken hip. He proceeds to endear himself by setting up a dictatorship in the middle of the Stanley household. His secretary, Maggie Cutler, is played by Sally Jones, with Jeffrey Dunn as the aspiring newspaperman, Bert Jefferson. The Stanleys are Martha Lorentz and Joel Hartley. Alix Kyle, Steve Whitney, Gail Roberts, Ben Dunn and Scott Atkinson are just a few of the myriad characters who parade through the show.

For a night full of choir boys, penquins, hairbrained schemes and laughs, come see "The Man Who Came to Dinner" on November 20th at 8:00 in the O.R.R. auditorium.

Scholarship Information

MASS. STATE SCHOLARSHIP AID INFORMATION

On the basis of an expected eight million dollar legislative appropriation for 1972-73, the State Board of Higher Education's Scholarship Office expects to award 4000 freshman scholarships in April. The number of awards is double the number made last spring according to information released by the Old Rochester Regional Guidance Department.

These undergraduate scholarships may be used by full-time students at regionally accredited institutions in all states as well as institutions in Massachusetts approved for degree authority by the Board of Higher Education or by its predecessor board, the Board of Collegiate Authority.

A student enrolling in a private institution may receive up to $700. annually; in a public institution, as much as $200. Such awards are based solely on financial need as reflected in the Parents' Confidential Statement (PCS). Scholarship applications must be filed with the Scholarship Office by December 15, 1971, but all applications must be accompanied by a copy of the PCS submitted to the office by indicating 'State of Massachusetts' in item 2 of the form when it is filled out.

Relatively complicated, the PCS must be
